WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 1889.

The latest report by the Treasurer for the week ending April 20 shows a considerable increase in the export movement of American goods over the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Those of the current half of last year were 40 per cent larger than for the six months corresponding, and were nearly 50 per cent of the total for eighteen months. In the last half of 1888 more than 5,000,000 pounds of merchandise were exported from the United States by this line, four-fifths of which was cotton.

Chicago sells to borrowers about 5, 6, and 7 per cent. Local securities kept a firm tone, even from exchange was quoted at 20 cents premium. Sterling was quiet. Wall street prices were soft.—The Chicago produce market was more active, with several leaders prone to governmental and farmers' movement of wheat. On account with Monday, puts about 20 cents lower, April and May 7½ cents lower, others 1½ cents lower on May and 1½ cents lower for corn, corn ½ cent lower, oats ½ cent higher, rye ½ cent lower, barley and flaxseed unchanged.

The Locust & Swift at Indiana who U. S. mails, will be one of the five Service Inspectors to be original civil service reform men. The pay is much here in Cleveland's governor that he voted for him in 1888. Reform was unfortunate, however, for the Administration in the Indianapolis Post Office and elsewhere in the State. He was heard against them, but in vain. Duty to the last campaign he made a statement of Democratic civil service reform in his State, showing how nearly Democrat had failed to live up to its promises, which brought the civil service reform of 1888 into how against Cleveland in 1888.

It is stated that one of the most fervent of the Massachusetts Prohibitionists said Monday night when the Internal Revenue bill was first and their constituents abandoned their hopes, "We are scared under each [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

MINOR AND BRIEF.

At the Chicago Opera-House last evening the Metropolitan company presented Wagner's "Lohengrin" for the Chicagos' Easter week. The performance was an excellent one throughout. The orchestra was especially good, and Signor Vignas, Signor Montanari and Miss Van Zandt, in their respective parts, sang with much power and effect. Signor Montanari's voice is strong in the upper register of its compass, and he sang the high notes with ease and power. He also acted the part of Lohengrin with much dramatic force and effectiveness. Miss Van Zandt's singing was especially worthy of commendation. Her voice is of great sweetness and power, and she sang the part of Elsa with much feeling and expression. She seems to improve with each succeeding appearance. The chorus and orchestra were also very good. The opera will be repeated this evening.

The Chicago Opera-House will open this evening with "Faust," and the following week will be devoted to Gounod's opera. The Wednesday matinee will be given to "Romeo and Juliet," and the evening performance to "Mignon." On Thursday evening "Faust" will be given, and on Friday evening "Romeo and Juliet." Saturday afternoon "Mignon" will be repeated, and in the evening "Faust" will be given. The cast for the week is a very strong one, and the performances will be worthy of the occasion.

The Grand Opera-House and exercise hall of the Young Men's Christian Association will be closed to-day and to-morrow for the purpose of cleaning and renovating. The Association will resume its regular work on Friday morning.

Mr. Frank Lawler, the well-known actor, who has been ill for some time past, is now convalescent, and will be able to resume his professional duties in a few days.

Mr. Edwin Booth will begin an engagement at the Grand Opera-House on Monday evening next, when he will appear as Hamlet. He will be supported by a strong company, and will present the play in a handsome manner.

Mr. Joseph Jefferson will begin an engagement at McVicker's Theater on Monday evening next, when he will appear in "Rip Van Winkle." He will be supported by a strong company, and will present the play in a handsome manner.

Mr. Thomas Keene will begin an engagement at Hooley's Theater on Monday evening next, when he will appear in "Richard III." He will be supported by a strong company, and will present the play in a handsome manner.

Mr. Lawrence Barrett will begin an engagement at the Chicago Theater on Monday evening next, when he will appear in "Richelieu." He will be supported by a strong company, and will present the play in a handsome manner.

Mr. John McCullough will begin an engagement at the Chicago Theater on Monday evening next, when he will appear in "Virginius." He will be supported by a strong company, and will present the play in a handsome manner.

RECKLING HOME RULE.

LORD SALISBURY MAKES TWO PUBLIC ADDRESSES IN DERBY.

He Declares the Unionists Approve Bill of Exclusion, but Chances Are to Remain in Work, but Place Rising Statesmen—Chamberlain's Reply in Edinburgh—Other Foreign Notes.

LONDON, April 23.—Lord Salisbury delivered an address at Bristol today. He spoke of the growth of the Primrose League, which, of late, had numerous. The speaker, he declared, was of unconstitutional value to the attention of any person without party bias, as it was a safe instrument with which to defend the crown and the people. He urged that the league should not be allowed to degenerate into a mere party organization. The speaker then referred to the Home Rule question. He said that the Unionists were not the enemies of Ireland, but were the friends of Ireland and her people. They were not the enemies of the Irish people, but were the friends of the Irish people. They were not the enemies of the Irish people, but were the friends of the Irish people. They were not the enemies of the Irish people, but were the friends of the Irish people.

Lord Salisbury then referred to the Parnell Commission, and said that the Commission had been appointed by the Government, and that the Government had been compelled to do so by the pressure of public opinion. The Commission had been appointed by the Government, and that the Government had been compelled to do so by the pressure of public opinion. The Commission had been appointed by the Government, and that the Government had been compelled to do so by the pressure of public opinion.

Lord Salisbury then referred to the Irish question. He said that the Irish question was a question of the greatest importance, and that it was a question which must be settled. He said that the Irish question was a question of the greatest importance, and that it was a question which must be settled. He said that the Irish question was a question of the greatest importance, and that it was a question which must be settled.

Props.

Hundreds of imitations—dangerous to fabric and hands—are tugging away at the props, which have put and still hold Pyle's Pearline in its present enviable position. It's the standard—pure—effective—harmless—a necessity in millions of homes. These imitators take names ending in INE—to deceive—peddle their goods from house to house—claim them to be "Pearline"—"same as Pearline," or "good as Pearline." Beware of them—one wash may ruin your clothes. Their methods alone should denounce them—evidently they do—for the consumption of Pearline increases each day. It does away with the drudgery of woman's hardest work. 663 JAMES PYLE, New York.

ATWOOD

Bogs to assure you this is especially true of Clothing, and that many of you realize this fact is fully attested by the increasing demand for ROSENBAUM, PERET & CO.'S high-grades of SPRING OVERCOATS and SUITS for men and boys of all sizes.

Prices quoted on beautifully-made, beautifully-trimmed, artistically cut garments do not give a commensurate idea of their vast superiority over those of a superficial FINISH; but in the wear you find them out to your decided satisfaction, and you come again and again for the goods that have used you so well.

If you don't want to be everlastingly sewing on buttons, repairing torn seams and tattered linings, losing your keys, jack-knife, and pocketbook through leaky pockets, let us dress you and your boys in the "R., P. & Co." solidities.
